

CARNES IN WINNIPEG

Baptist Mission Official Jailed

Church Board Treasurer's Books Declared to be $1,000,000 Short

Prison Record Shown Since Disappearance in August; True Bills Returned

ATLANTA (Ga.) Sept. 28. (AP)—Chief of Detectives Poole announced tonight he was advised by police of Winnipeg, Can., that Clinton S. Carnes, missing treasurer of the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, has been taken into custody there.

The message received by Chief Poole read:

"Have C. S. Carnes held here. Admits identity. Wire instructions. Signed C. H. Newton, chief constable."

REWARD POSTED

Chief Poole wired Canadian authorities to hold the man and advised them of the $5000 reward posted for his capture. Poole said he will rush photographs and fingerprints in order to be certain of his identity and that he will return him to Atlanta until he is sure the man is Carnes.

Carnes, whose accounts, officers of the board have announced, show shortages approximately $1,000,000, disappeared from his home here August 15, last, after telling relatives and business associates he was going to Raleigh, N. C., on a business trip.

First indication the public had of his disappearance was contained in a formal statement from Dr. D. B. Gray, secretary of the Home Mission Board, issued August 26, that Carnes had not returned, and, expressing apprehension for his safety, he asked for assistance in locating him.

The first indication that anything was amiss in his accounts came several days later when auditors started checking his books and it was announced the shortage approximated $1,000,000.

INDICTMENTS RETURNED

Two indictments charging embezzlement, one charging misappropriation of $500,000 and the other $500,000, have been returned against Carnes by the Fulton county grand jury and Solicitor-General Boykin has announced other true bills will be sought just as rapidly as auditors working on the books can complete their work.

During the first few days after the announcement that Carnes was missing, a nation-wide search was launched for him, relatives and friends claiming to the theory he either had fallen ill or met with foul play as it was known that he carried considerable money on his person.

While the search was in progress, the prison record of C. S. Carnes was disclosed. Records of the Atlanta Federal penitentiary showed that a C. S. Carnes had served a sentence of thirteen months for misuse of the mails. He entered the institution on March 4, 1914, after being sentenced at Birmingham, Ala. Another record of C. S. Carnes having served a prison term was unearthed at Clinton, Mo., where he served a five months' sentence.

Bertillon experts who checked Carnes' measurements against those at the penitentiary here said they were identical.

Carnes had served the Home Mission board for nearly ten years. During the investigation of his private affairs after the shortage, his activities in financing the moving-picture aspirations of two young women became known.

The young women, Miss Lois Griffin of Hopewell, Ga., and Miss Sonja Norda, a Norwegian beauty, had made contracts with Carnes through Mrs. Louise Pope, a former Atlanta business woman, whereby he would finance them for a percentage of their earnings after they had attained success.

FINANCES REVEALED

His private papers showed advances of $519,893 to Miss Griffin, $272,611 to Miss Norda and $430,471 to Mrs. Pope, who was business manager for Miss Norda.

The revelations of his financing the two young women in their efforts for film careers was made by Thomas Howell Scott, an attorney, who was appointed a receiver for Carnes' assets.

Carnes, who has two sons, Stuart and Robert, records showed, was divorced by his wife in 1914, on grounds of extreme cruelty at Carlsville, Ga.

The divorce petition set forth that Carnes had a "very violent temper" and caused "her great uneasiness and unhappiness." They were remarried in 1918.

TRAINED IN CITY THREE DAYS BEFORE ARREST

WINNIPEG, Sept. 28. (AP)—Trained in and about Winnipeg three days, Clinton S. Carnes, missing treasurer of the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention was arrested late today and held at police headquarters awaiting arraignment in City Court tomorrow.

Immediately after his arrest Carnes, without a hesitation, admitted his identity and announced that he will waive extradition proceedings.

The police said Carnes came to Winnipeg about three weeks ago. He was unaccompanied. He stayed at a local hotel and had been making

BACHELORS ASK BARE-LEG BAN

They Want "Protection" and Plan Plea to State Legislature

SAN LEANDRO, Sept. 28. (AP)—Declaring that bachelors are entitled to protection, the Cherry City Club of Calhoun today went on record condemning the bare-legged fad for women.

D. V. Patton, chief recording officer of the San Leandro bachelors' organization, announced that the State Legislature will be asked to "put a stop to the entire back-to-Eve tendency."

"Bachelors," he said, "are just as much entitled to protection as turkey buzzards."

WOMEN HERE SILENT ON ARREST OF CARNES

"We have no comment to make on the arrest of Mr. Carnes in Canada, and nothing to say with reference to the case. It has been a most unfortunate affair ever since we heard of the charges in Atlanta and California here will look after our interests in any future developments in which we may become involved."

With this statement, Mrs. Louise Pope and Miss Norda, who were two of the beneficiaries of Carnes in a plan to place Miss Norda in motion pictures along with her sister, last night dismissed the first word they received of his arrest in Winnipeg.

Both are making their home at the St. Francis Apartment-Hotel in Hollywood, where they were located during the search for Carnes in Southern California, and it was revealed that the accused embezzler had just sent the two girls and their chaperone approximately $12,000 as a result of a contract entered into by the quartet entitling him to participate in the future earnings of the young ladies in film work. Miss Griffin is in the employ of a downtown architect, but Miss Norda is continuing her studies in drama and dancing, while doing extra work in pictures.

All three were exonerated of any connection with the disappearance of Carnes or knowledge of his whereabouts following an investigation here by the District Attorney.

The arrest of Carnes will make no change in plans of the three to continue to make their home here, they said last night.

DALLAS (Tex.) Sept. 28. (AP)—Four negro cotton pickers, three men and a woman, were shot and killed on a farm near Rowlett, Tex., today in a row over a gambling game.

The slayer, a negro, surrendered to officers and declared he had been "framed" by the other gamblers. When he demanded his money back, he said, a shot was fired at him. He then obtained a shotgun and killed four participants in the game.

NAVAL LIMITS PACT REJECTED

United States Advises London and Paris

Correspondence Discloses Secret Agreement

Government Ready to Work for Better Scheme

division of cruisers into two classes for purposes of limitation, of those carrying eight-inch guns and those carrying six-inch guns. The British project then contemplated rigid limitation of eight-inch gun ships but provisions for larger tonnage in small cruisers.

"The limitation proposed by the British delegation on this small class of cruiser was so high that the American delegation considered it in effect, no limitation at all," the note says. "This same proposal is now presented in a new and even more objectionable form which still limits larger classes and leaves available to American needs but frankly places no limit whatever on cruisers carrying guns of six-inch or less in caliber."

This proposal is obviously incompatible with the American position at the three-power conference. It is even more unacceptable than the proposal put forward by the British agreement to accept a conference not only because it puts the United States at decided disadvantage but also because it disregards altogether the principle of equality of ships and this very fact would inevitably lead to a recurrence of naval competition disastrous to national economy."

UNABLE TO ACCEPT

The note says that much the same holds true as to the Franco-British proposal for submarine limitation. The American government being unable to accept a distinction which would limit underwater boats of over 600 tons and leave unlimited all below that type.

"Six-hundred-ton submarines are formidable combatant vessels," the note continues. "They carry the same armament as larger submarines and are of equal destructive force within the radius of their operation. They can also be armed with guns of five-inch caliber."

"The United States would gladly in conjunction with all the nations of the world, abolish the submarine limitation. It, however, submarines are to be continued as instruments of naval warfare, it is the belief of the American government that they should be limited to a reasonable tonnage."

The note declares the American position that attempts to further limit construction of war vessels "should include all combatant vessels, submarines as well as surface vessels." It adds that the United States "has earnestly and consistently advocated real reduction and limitation of naval armament" and will be happy to consider efforts toward finding acceptable methods.

DOOR WIDE OPEN

"But it cannot consent," the note continues, "to proposals to leave the door wide open to unlimited building of certain types of ships of a highly efficient combatant nature and would impose restrictions only on types peculiarly suitable to American needs."

"The American government seeks no special advantage on the sea, but clearly cannot permit itself to be placed in a position of manifest disadvantage. The American government feels furthermore, that the terms of the Franco-British agreement, in leaving unlimited so large a tonnage and so many types of vessels would actually defeat the primary objective of any disarmament conference for the reduction or limitation of armament, in that it would not eliminate competition in naval armament and would not effect economy."

The note then reviews the original proposals made by the American delegation to the Washington Naval Conference of 1921, which brought about limitations on all classes of combatant craft of over 10,000 tons. It points out that the United States then made sacrifices in naval building plans and "in the actual destruction of ships already built" to achieve that end.

The American original proposal, it adds, contemplated a 250,000 to 300,000 tons limit for the United States and Great Britain, and 180,000 to 200,000 tons for Japan, with similar rigid reduction of destroyer tonnage and curtailment of submarines to a basis of 60,000 to 90,000 tons for the United States and Great Britain and 36,000 to 54,000 tons for Japan.

At that time, it says, the American delegation invited any power which desired even greater reduction in these tonnages to present its views with the assurance that they would be welcome to the American government.

WILLING TO CONTINUE

In conclusion, the note expresses American willingness to continue efforts to obtain a basis for future naval limitation, satisfactory not only to these three powers, but to all naval powers, "including those not represented in the three-power conference at Geneva."

"The government of the United States is willing to take into consideration in any conference the special needs of France, Italy or any other naval power for the particular class of vessels deemed by them most suitable for their defense," the note declares. "This could be accomplished by permitting any of us to vary the percentage of tonnage in classes within the total tonnage; a certain percentage to be agreed upon. If there was an increase in one class of vessels, it should be deducted from the tonnage to be used in other vessels."

"A proposal along these lines made by France and discussed by the American and French representatives would be sympathetically considered."

TIGER PURRS ON BIRTHDAY

Political Claws Sheathed, Clemenceau Sings Pleas of Interviewers

PARIS, Sept. 28. (AP)—Former Premier Clemenceau celebrated his eighty-seventh birthday today in earnest and successful efforts to avoid interviews.

"Journalists now give their opinions to the public rather than asking the public for theirs. I belong to the great public," he said, and then turning to the persistent newspaper man asked: "Once I knew how to talk, now I have learned silence. Let me interpret my own silence."

Clemenceau appeared in splendid health and spirits. "The Premier will live a hundred years," said his faithful old woman servant to the reporters soothingly as they left, disappointed at their failure to get the Tiger to talk.

considered by the United States. It expects on the part of others, however, similar consideration for its own special features as known and agreed upon by the French and the American government.

FRENCH SAY NOTE CALLS FOR NEW EFFORT

PARIS, Sept. 28. (AP)—The first conclusion which the French have drawn from Washington's reply to the French note concerning the Franco-British naval accord delivered to the Foreign Office today is that the search for a basis for further reduction in naval armament must begin all over again.

The text of the note will not be generally known until tomorrow but its special features are known and are being commented upon in a rather noncommittal tone.

There is evident satisfaction in official circles that the note leaves the way open for further negotiations.

It was remarked semi-officially at that point that the Franco-British accord never was considered in Paris as imposing intangible conditions for naval armament limitations but rather as furnishing the basis for a discussion at Geneva.

The extreme Liberal and Socialist press expresses regret that a third power is able to upset an accord between the traditional enemies of France and Great Britain, who finally have found a basis for a reduction in naval armaments.

The merits of the American argument that the Franco-British accord puts the United States at a disadvantage thus far has not been touched on.

HAUGHTON GIVES OUT NOTE SENT TO ENGLAND

LONDON, Sept. 28. (AP)—The American note on the Anglo-French naval agreement, long awaited here with profound interest, was handed to Lord Cusack, acting Foreign Secretary, at noon today by Ambassador Houghton. It was made public tonight by the American Embassy and the fact that it was given out from this source instead of from the Foreign Office, caused some comment.

In authoritative circles it is stated that it would be impossible to say what the British government's reaction to the note would be. Any comment, it was explained, would necessarily be a question for the Cabinet since the note concerns more than one government department. The ministers will meet next week, probably on Tuesday, but perhaps later.

Nevertheless, responsible quarters indicated a belief that the note did not preclude further discussion, yet they would not say whether any reply was deemed necessary.

In giving out the note to the general public who have not yet learned from official sources the full and exact wording of the Franco-British accord, the American authorities apparently acted on their own initiative.

Inquiry in Whitehall official quarters failed to develop any indication as to when the complete terms of the Anglo-French agreement would be made known.

When it was suggested that man's struggle to gain comfort for women often causes war, she answered: "Nonsense. Women spend all their lives trying to make men comfortable."

Lady Astor is working for local option on control of liquor in England. She said the movement is winning ground, and wherever adopted there are better social and economic conditions.

On her first visit to America in two years Lady Astor said she will be here for three weeks, going to her home at Mirador, Greenwich, Va., after she visits the home of Roger Winthrop on Long Island, where she will join her sister, Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson.

BYRD TO START WEST MONDAY

Commander Expects to be on Sea Next Week

Deficit for Expedition Cut to $120,000

Whaler Lerson Now Nears Port at San Pedro

NEW YORK, Sept. 28. (Exclusive)—Commander Richard E. Byrd bade farewell to New York City today and leaving the headquarters of his expedition, where he has been busy night and day for a month, went to Boston for a brief visit with his children before departing for the Antarctic.

On Monday, accompanied by Mrs. Byrd, the commander starts for San Pedro, Cal., and the next Saturday he expects to be on the Pacific, bound for New Zealand. Already three ships have started for Dunedin, N. Z., which is to be the jumping-off place for the shores of the Antarctic continent.

Just before leaving Commander Byrd wired the State Department for information bearing on the international law of discovery and ownership of newly discovered or explored lands.

DEFICIT NOW $120,000

In discussing the matter of financing the expedition the commander let it be known that a deficit of approximately $200,000 had been reduced to about $120,000. The commander felt that perhaps a misapprehension had been spread abroad concerning the relative "expensiveness" of his own expedition and others. He pointed out that the only other organized exploration of the Antarctic regions that could be called an American venture was the Wilkes expedition, which was financed by the United States government.

"In considering earlier expeditions and their costs," the commander said, "the fact must be remembered that the Wilkes expedition was the change in the purchasing power of money also."

Eager as he is not only to start for the South Pole itself but especially to carry an extensive scientific search of the lands between the Ross Sea and the South Pole, the commander said that the work of thoroughly establishing the various bases upon which the success of the whole venture would rest should be carried out first.

"At Christmas time if all goes well," he said, "we will be battling our way through the ice on the ice barrier toward our base on the Ross Sea. The more we study the situation the more it seems unlikely that we shall do much actual flying this winter."

WHALE NEARS PORT

Capt. Sir Hubert Wilkins, who plans to fly across part of the Antarctic continent in search of new lands, is expected to arrive about 2000 miles from the pole. The base of the Byrd expedition on the shores of the Ross Sea is about 800 miles from the pole.

HOOVER ALTERS NEW YORK DATE

Speech Moved Up Four Days and Place Changed

Clamor to Hear Nominee Causes Switch

Result May be Additional Formal Address

NEW YORK, Sept. 28. (Exclusive)—Herbert Hoover's New York City speech, likely to stand out as the most important of his campaign, was switched today from October 17 to October 13, and from Carnegie Hall to Madison Square Garden. The change in place was made to "accommodate the immense crowd clamoring to hear the Republican Presidential candidate on his visit to the metropolis. It was decided upon after Senator Smith of the eastern advisory committee, had reported this morning that the advance demand for tickets to the Hoover meeting in New York was so great the crowd certainly would be far beyond the capacity of Carnegie Hall. He suggested that Madison Square Garden, with its seating capacity of 20,000, would be more suitable as it would hold three times as many people, and Mr. Hoover agreed.

PLANS SPONSORED
The altered plans are sponsored by the Union League Club, the National Republican Club, the National Republican Women's Club and the Republican State Committee of New York, under whose joint auspices, Mr. Hoover will appear in New York.

In some quarters, the moving ahead of the date for his appearance in Gov. Smith's home State and city was regarded as indicating a general shift in the Hoover plans which will permit delivery of a fifth and so far unscheduled speech by the Republican candidate, but there was no confirmation of this. Mr. Hoover's personal headquarters, instead, only yesterday, it was denied that Mr. Hoover would make more than the "big four" speeches originally set out to make, the first of which was to be delivered at Newark, N. J., and the second of which will take place at Elizabeth, Tenn., on October 4, with the New York speech the third for which plans have been announced.

ONE SPEECH MORE
At any rate, Mr. Hoover has one more speech up his sleeve, so to speak, and no announcement or definite hint has been given as to where it is to be made. It is believed probably it will be delivered late in the campaign, at St. Louis or some other strategic central point, as Hoover travels westward to reach his home at Palo Alto, Cal., in time to cast his vote in the November election.

By moving up the date of the New York speech, Mr. Hoover will avoid a conflict with a speaking date of Gov. Smith, who is to deliver an address at Chicago on the night originally chosen for the New York meeting.

WORK BIDS SMITH TELL HIS POSITION

Chairman Says Governor Talks of Leadership and Fails to Display Any

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. (Exclusive)—The speech by Gov. Smith at St. Paul last night was analyzed by Republican leaders here by the result that Dr. Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican National Committee, said a fresh opening and issued a statement challenging the Democratic nominee to state fully whether he was for or against the equalization fee in the McNary-Haugen farm-relief plan. Smith has been skipping here and there in his speeches and Work demanded that he come down to earth and state definitely and in so many words his exact position.

Chairman Work's statement follows:
"Gov. Smith spoke last night on leadership. One of the qualities of real leadership is to stand for something and proclaim it. The point of dispute in the McNary-Haugen bill is the equalization fee. Is Smith for it or against it? He has not said. He declares he will refer the matter to a committee. It does not take leadership to refer a matter to a committee.
"In one breath Gov. Smith praises the achievements of the last Democratic national administration. In the next he denounces the Republican party for the desperate plight into which agriculture was sunk under that administration. The collapse in American agriculture came in 1929 under the Democratic administration. The bottom dropped out of farm prices and credit between July, 1929, and March, 1930. That is the record, and Gov. Smith appeals to the record. The worst that can be said of the Republican administration on agriculture is that in seven years it has failed fully to remedy the desperate agricultural condition it inherited. But the Governor should remember that it is easier to bankrupt an industry than rehabilitate it once it has been bankrupted.
"A similar failure to display real leadership is found in Gov. Smith's reference to the St. Lawrence waterway. He does not say whether he is for it or against it. Not long ago he declared for the alternative New York route. Last night he says he will leave the matter to the engineers and to Congress. This is not leadership. This is one way of encouraging the best without alienating support in the East. The public expects Gov. Smith to show leadership in such matters as well as talk about it."

FAIRFIELD (Ill.) Sept. 28. (Rev.) J. S. MRS. EDISON DOES HER BIT

Wife of Inventor Persuades Veteran Democrat to Support Hoover

NEW YORK, Sept. 28. (Exclusive)—Thomas A. Edison succeeds in science.

Mrs. Thomas A. Edison proved today that she can succeed in politics. She won her first convert.
A few days ago Mrs. Edison issued an appeal to enfranchised men and women to vote for Herbert Hoover for President.
Today the first fruits of her appeal came to her in the form of a letter addressed to her by Calvin S. Crosser, an attorney, of 341 Elliott Square, Buffalo.
Crosser is a grandson of one of the founders of Jackson's democracy. He has voted a straight Democrat ticket for fifty years, but now he is converted to the Hoover banner.

COOLIDGE WILL SEND MESSAGE

Campaign Pronouncement Promised Massachusetts Republican Session

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. (Exclusive)—President Coolidge is expected to send a message to the Massachusetts State Republican convention tomorrow.
After conferring with Thomas S. White, collector of Internal Revenue at Boston, President Coolidge was reported as willing to add the influence of a message from him to the cause of the national and State Republican tickets.

White House officials would not comment on the message beyond saying it would be made public at the White House until after its delivery in Boston.

Culver Calls Hoover Man for New Era

In the immediate future aviation will change completely the international complexion of the world, according to Harry H. Culver, speaking yesterday before Southern California Hoover orators at the Alexander Hotel, who has just returned home from an aerial campaign tour over fifteen States, declared that Herbert Hoover is one of the few great Americans today who have a thorough grasp of the rapidly changing international situation as a result of aviation.

"We are facing a highly critical commercial situation—international in scope—not a period of readjustment but what might be termed a rebalancing period," Mr. Culver said. "Never before in the history of the world have nations been so closely bound together as now. The weal and woe of one is the weal and woe of the other."
Marshall Simmes, chief of the squadron of 100 Hoover volunteer speakers working in Southern California, presided at the meeting. Mrs. C. P. Clark, Republican national committeewoman from California, Mrs. R. J. Burdette, recently returned from the Hoover home in Washington, and Dean Miller of the University of Southern California, also spoke.

Communists to Stay Off Ballot in California

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 28. (Exclusive)—The Communist party of California failed to qualify its candidates for Presidential elector and United States Senator, Secretary of State Jordan announced today.
Jordan declared the time for filing nomination petitions with county clerks for the election at the Communist would have had to appear on the ballot, expired yesterday.

Miss Anita Whitney, Oakland radical who was granted a pardon by Gov. Young after conviction on a charge of violating the Criminal Syndicalism Act, was to have been the Communist candidate for Senator.
"Gov. Smith spoke last night on leadership. One of the qualities of real leadership is to stand for something and proclaim it. The point of dispute in the McNary-Haugen bill is the equalization fee. DAVIS LAUNCHES OHIO CAMPAIGN

Secretary Says Food, Not Rum, Real Issue

Stronger Liquor Impotent to Solve Problems

Fess and Burton Speak at Columbus Meeting

COLUMBUS (O.) Sept. 28. (Exclusive)—Engaging in an old-fashioned rally formally to open their campaign, Ohio Republicans were told today by Secretary of Labor Davis that food and not liquor is the issue of the national campaign.
"As much as some would like, an increase in alcohol content of our drinks will not solve our problems," Secretary Davis said addressing Republicans from all sections of the State. "Increasing the alcoholic content will not count for much if the stomach grins for lack of proper food, especially at the prospect of providing the necessities of life for your wife and children."

CANDIDATES SPEAK
The Labor Secretary divided oratorical honors with Senator Fess and Representative Burton, Senatorial candidates, and Myers Y. Cooper, Republican gubernatorial nominee. The Senatorial candidates also upheld the policies espoused by Herbert Hoover, and in turn criticized those of Gov. Smith, Democratic Presidential candidate.
Mr. Cooper discussed State issues, promising to make a "shake-up" in the administration of the fact-finding division of the utilities commission, if elected.

Secretary Davis declared that "the people of Ohio know that the Republican party has brought the country to a condition of normalcy," and that it is "the duty of the Republican party to put them back to work at good wages."

He voiced the opinion that "Hoover knows that the prosperity of this nation is based upon the success of the workers of the nation, and it is his belief that the welfare of the worker of the future depends at this time to a great extent on Hoover."

The Secretary touched on immigration, telling how restriction of immigrants has benefited the country. "Tammany does not like restriction," he said, and predicted that if Smith were elected, "the bars against immigration would be lowered at once with the result of flooding the country again."

GREAT PROMISER
Mr. Davis rapped Smith as a "great promiser," who has done "too much of it." He said that "Al Smith is promising everything; in one section of the country he promises this, and in another he half promises something else."
Senator Fess called Hoover "the acknowledged peer of any statesman in America or Europe," and said that he is confident Hoover will do for agriculture what he has done for industry.

That the Tammany nominees for Governor and Senate, who are exclusively upon agriculture, defending his party's treatment of the farm problem from attacks by the Democrats, and maintaining that Republicans are the real friends of the farmers.

He said that Gov. Smith has re-elected himself on his stand on the McNary-Haugen bill, and that after coming out first against it, he now wants to make the West believe he is for the bill.

METHODIST LAYMEN TO AID HOOVER

Determined Stand Taken at Santa Barbara After Conference's Action

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 28. (Exclusive)—Following the lead of their pastors, members of the Laymen's Association of the Southern California conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in session here today voted approval of a resolution pledging support to Herbert Hoover, Republican candidate for the Presidency of the United States.
The Laymen's Association meets annually in conjunction with the conference, but it is an entirely separate body from the Methodist organization and votes separately.
The text of the resolution passed by the laymen is:

That its enactment has resulted in great industrial efficiency, a larger degree of safety on the highways, unparalleled savings, unequalled public health, a remarkable decrease in the national death rate with unprecedented social and moral well-being. That the said annual conference has declared that it would not support uncertain candidates.
"Whereas, the said annual conference of the Methodist Church is a candidate for the high office of President of the United States who has declared from the platform and through the public press that he would do all in his power to do away with the said amendment; and

GUIDING YOUR CHILD

FAVORITISM
By Mrs. Agnes Lyne

Most parents feel that they are being accused of a crime when someone says that they seem to be fond of one child than another. Yet the prevalence of such favoritism is obvious to anyone who observes family life.

Sometimes mothers and fathers are themselves aware that they love one child more than another, but they put it down to the fact that the child who is less loved than his brother or sister, unless his parents handle the situation wisely, feels poignantly the true state of affairs.

When the parent may not recognize his own feelings nor recognize their manifestations in family life, we can be perfectly sure that the child who is less loved than his brother or sister, unless his parents handle the situation wisely, feels poignantly the true state of affairs.

While the parent may not recognize his own feelings nor recognize their manifestations in family life, we can be perfectly sure that the child who is less loved than his brother or sister, unless his parents handle the situation wisely, feels poignantly the true state of affairs.

HEALTH AND DIET

ADVICE
By Dr. Frank Mc Coy

Dr. McCoy will answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him, care of The Los Angeles Times, enclosed envelope, THIS DATE, 10:00 A.M. to 12:00 P.M.

It is also advisable for one to drink large quantities of distilled water to assist in washing out the impurities that may have accumulated in the circulation. From two to three gallons per day would not be an excessive amount.

Most of us who live in cities have a constant strain on the eyes that can only be relieved by wearing suitable glasses. My best advice to those who wish to avoid cataracts is to diet, wear properly fitting glasses, and take the eye exercises.

Question: S. J. writes: "I have a swollen gland in my neck and am writing to you to ask what is good for it. I have had it for a couple of months but after awhile it seems to come back. It doesn't hurt me. I am a strong, healthy girl of 16 and some people say I will outgrow it but I don't know."

Answer: Your only hope to cure the swollen gland is to take a careful diet which will not overload your lymphatic circulation. It is a good idea to eat a diet which is a change to empty themselves of any accumulated wastes. Lancing only injures the glands still further, and extends the trouble to other glands near by. Hot applications or electrical treatments are sometimes helpful in emptying out the swollen glands.

H. L. G. asks: "How much water should a person drink during the day?"

A: The quantity of water used depends upon your bodily needs and these vary in each individual case. A good rule to use is to take as much water as necessary to keep the urine a light color. If the urine becomes dark during the day it is a sign you are not using enough water. The additional water should be taken between meals and not with food.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

CHAIN-STORE PRESIDENT OPTIMISTIC

A. B. De Nault, Western Head of Piggy Wiggly, Backs Up Confidence

In the appointment of A. B. De Nault as president of the 200-store Piggy Wiggly Company grocery chain in this locality another reminder of the success of the chain is being given.

Mr. De Nault, a Middle-western banker and a firm believer in the chain-store plan of merchandising in Southern California, is a great success in the chain-store plan.

From two stores to 200 in the short space of ten years, is the record of astonishing growth of this organization and now Mr. De Nault has taken his place at the head of the company to direct further expansion and carry on the policies of the organization in supplying the best possible grade of goods at the least possible figure to the consumer.

So astonishing was the growth of the new concern that Mr. De Nault has made his permanent home in Los Angeles and now is engaged in closing out his business connection in the Middle West and transferring his entire interest to the Southern organization.

"I believe the coming winter season will be an exceptionally good one for our business," said Mr. De Nault, "for with good crops in the Middle West prosperity will follow and that always means a great many people will spend the cold months in this local climate."

The chief of the Piggy Wiggly organization states that the business is generally good over the entire nation and that it is exceptionally good here, citing the record of his company for the current year in showing an increase of 11.6 per cent for the first eight months over 1927.

SOUTHLAND LURE WINS

Veteran Milwaukee Insurance Man To Move to Los Angeles

Samuel O. Buckner, for forty-two years inspector of agents of the Northwestern department of the New York Life Insurance Company, who is to retire January 1, expects to make his home in Los Angeles.

"Our household effects are all packed for shipment in Milwaukee, where I have lived most of my life. I hate to leave it but the lure of Southern California looms big as a reward for long years of hard work," he said yesterday at the Mayfair. Accompanied by his wife and daughter, Miss Margaret, he is leaving today for Santa Fe, N. M., for a brief visit. Mr. Buckner is a patron of art and was for sixteen years president of the Milwaukee Art Institute.

Miss Margaret Buckner is the possessor of an unusual collection of sixty-five small paintings, each one autographed to her by artists who have been friends of her father. It is said that there is no similar collection in America.

The fall styles all demand that one be slender, so slender one must be if the fashion critics decree it, but how to lose the obnoxious pounds which keep us from having a boyish figure? Why hadn't you heard—did you know about Bay Bread? All you do is eat a slice of it with each meal and the pounds simply disappear. That's all—stay away which is more to the point. Aren't you intrigued by this news and can you restrain your impulse to get a loaf for the first chance you get? Well then, straight to the phone and call DU-3121, which is Young's Market Co.'s number, or if you can wait drop in at 7th and Union and get a loaf from that address, only hurry, won't you?

For red and wrinkled skin following tan or sunburn, apply this lotion: Muriate of ammonia, one-half teaspoonful; aromatic vinegar, one-half teaspoonful; lukewarm water, one pint.

In cooking very sour fruits much less sugar is required if a little salt is added and the flavor will also be improved.

'LOSING' PRISONERS BANNED

New Jail System Will Prevent Recurrence of Herman Hoppe's Queer Case

In order to prevent another such occurrence as the case of Herman Hoppe who was "lost" in the County Jail for nearly two years before his case was taken up again for disposition, two county departments have ordered improvements in the system under which they have been operating.

It is pointed out by county officials, however, that if Hoppe really had wanted to get out of jail or to have his case finally disposed of he had only to notify the jailer or the Public Defender's office or any attorney or welfare worker who visits the jail.

CASE TRACED
He went into court in May, 1926, on four charges, and going through the regular routine was given a preliminary hearing and bound over to the Superior Court where his trial was continued several times on the defendant's own request until September 16, 1928. It was then that he was sent to the psychiatric ward for observation and on October 21 the case was taken off the calendar.

The Deputy Public Defender handling the case at the time was taken ill and went to the hospital not returning for several months. In the meantime a doctor at the General Hospital had expressed the opinion that Hoppe was insane and should be taken before the Lunacy Commission for a hearing. This was never done, the failure to act apparently arising from the fact that the deputy handling the case was ill. Under the system by which the office operated there was no automatic check on the case, the case having been taken off the calendar in court.

NEW METHODS
On this point, Public Defender Vercoe said yesterday that under a new order, no case will be permitted to be taken off the calendar pending the outcome of an insanity hearing. In this way the matter will be kept alive by the court records themselves.

Jailer Dewar said that Hoppe was "discovered" by one of the men in the jail booking office, checking over the records. When approached as to what he was doing in jail, a turnkey said Hoppe professed not to know just why he was being held. Jailer Dewar explained that under the new laws many prisoners are held in jail for months and sometimes two years pending the outcome of their appeals. It is even upon occasion likely that men are sentenced to serve one, two, three or four years in jail, so that the turnkeys do not become suspicious of men who become "regular boarders."

The jail records have been carefully checked and no other "lost" prisoners have been uncovered.

Howard Jones, Zuppke and Roper Pick Today's Winners in Games All Over Country

STANFORD HAS TOUGH BATTLE

Upset Possible in Game at Stanford Stadium

Midwest Games Are Merely Workouts, Says Zuppke

Few Surprises Likely in East, Declares Roper

Now Howard Jones hopes today's Coast games: California-Santa Clara; California Stanford-Olympic Club; Surprise possible, but Stanford has edge. Gonzaga-Washington State: Upset possible here, also, but Washington looks like winner. Southern California-Utah Aggies: Southern California to win, I hope. U.C.L.A.-Arizona: Victory for U.C.L.A. Pacific-Oregon University: Oregon's game. California Aggies-Oregon State: Oregon State. Idaho-Montana State: Idaho. Washington University: Should win both games of double-header, with Willamette and Bremerton's very team.

BY HOWARD JONES
Football Coach, University of Southern California
(Copyright, 1926, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)
Although Stanford and one or two other Pacific Coast teams played last Saturday, the majority of far-western westerners are fighting their first battles this afternoon. Such teams as California, Idaho, Oregon State and Southern California will be closely watched in their opening contests, as each has a chance to win the Pacific Coast Conference championship.

Probably the most important game this afternoon is Olympic Club of San Francisco and Stanford. Last year Stanford's team had an exceedingly tough time defeating the club 7 to 6. The year before that the Olympic Club trimmed the Cardinals.

Stanford, in opening last week, played a double-header, but the games were only workouts. The Olympic Club, which also started the season a week ago, should afford the collegians a real test, with such players as Pat Wilson, Washington captain last year; Morton Kiser, former Southern California back; Nick Kutach, ex-Iowa fullback, and others, performing for them.

California opens against Santa Clara, which is coached by John Walsh, former all-American center of Notre Dame. The Broncos, as Walsh's athletes are called, are generally hard to beat early in the season, as last year's score of 14 to 6 in California's favor will testify.

There is speculation regarding which California will do this year, as the Golden Bears have twenty lettermen returning and much good material from last year's freshman team. This has done more to restore the surprise outfit of the season for California's athletic spirit is high, as the result of the victory of the Bear over the Bruins in the Olympic games. This has done more to restore a winning spirit than anything happening to the Bears in years, and it's a foregone conclusion California will be hard to beat.

Other eleven in California in action this afternoon are the University of California at Los Angeles, and Southern California, its own team. U.C.L.A. defeated Arizona last year, 16 to 13, in a wild game, and the local players are out for a week ago, should afford the collegians a real test, with such players as Pat Wilson, Washington captain last year; Morton Kiser, former Southern California back; Nick Kutach, ex-Iowa fullback, and others, performing for them.

FACE AGGIES
Southern California plays the Utah Aggies. This is the second time the Trojans have played a Rocky Mountain team since I came to the institution. Last year Colorado was on the schedule.

In the northwest, Washington State College has what appears to be the toughest opening game of the lot. The Cougars play Gonzaga University, always hard to beat. Last year Gonzaga stopped Idaho's clean record, by defeating the Vandals, 13 to 6.

Washington University, coached by Enoch Bagshaw, plays a double-header, taking on Willamette University and one of the Bremerton Navy teams. Bagshaw is a veteran manager, but he had large turnouts of big men whom he will undoubtedly mold into a strong eleven.

Washington State, one of the strongest teams on the Coast, opens against the California Aggies at Corvallis. Last year O.S.C. defeated this team, 20 to 6, and should have no trouble repeating.

Oregon, coached by John J. McEwan, former Army member, goes into action against Pacific University, and should win heavily, with this eleven. 33 to 6, last fall Montana plays Butte at Missoula in the other northwest game.

Upsets are possible in any of these games, but for the most part the larger teams should be victorious.

BOXERS DO THEIR BIT FOR CHARITY TONIGHT

With over 100 Red Cross girls selling tickets over the city today the Florida storm-sufferers' benefit boxing show at the Olympic tonight is expected to raise close to $10,000 for the Los Angeles quota.

The charity movement has met with wholesale approval everywhere. One of the strongest sources of contributions has been the radio audience which tunes in on the regular Tuesday night show.

There will be fifty rounds of boxing staged by twenty-four picked fighters from the clubs of Southern California. The line-up of the twelve bouts has been made for action more than big names.

Two of the principals are Hymie Miller, probably the best flyweight in America-amateur and professional-and Huerta Evans, also a former amateur champion.

Miller boxes Angie De Mille and Evans faces Johnny Cruz, star of the Mexican colony.

The Harold Roberts Golden State Band will give a one-hour program immediately before the show starts. Many stars of stage and screen will assist with the program.

SANTA ANA GRIDDERS BEAT HOLLYWOOD, 7-6

SANTA ANA, Sept. 22.—Lloyd Nunum, halfback on Coach Gerald "Tex" Oliver's Santa Ana High school football team, packed some of the dynamite under his arm for which he was famed when he toiled on the point in the position in the field grid team last year, in scoring a touchdown and converting to give the Saints a 7-to-6 win over the Kelly's Hollywood team.

The Hollywood score was made by John Hillman, fullback, who charged on the line and ran for a yard, then on the line and ran for a yard, then on the line and ran for a yard.

TROJANS FACE UTAH GRIDDERS

Southern California Favored to Trim Rivals

Newest Jones Creation Ready for 1928 Debut

U.C.L.A. Eleven Goes Against Arizona Outfit

the Southern California athletes a good workout, but if Jones' charges can't thump the visitors rather handily they won't get far in the scramble for the Coast championship.

Utah had a 500 average in the Rocky Mountain Conference last year, winning three games, losing three and tying one. This gave them a 100 percent record in their circuit. However, Coach Dick Romney started with a green team and developed it into a pretty fair organization by the end of the season. The Aggies lost by only one touchdown and converting to give the Saints a 7-to-6 win over the Kelly's Hollywood team.

MAY BE TROUBLED
This is in direct contrast to the Colorado U team which Southern California pumped, 46 to 7, here last year. Colorado's defensive record was terrible, 140 points being scored against them. This may mean that the Trojans will have some real trouble scoring after all, which will please Jones, for he prefers to go against stronger early season opposition than he has been getting in the past.

Romney is said to make frequent use of the lateral pass, and to feature an overhead attack. The Utah publicity man, while looking the Trojans over two days ago, remarked that they "looked small."

Jones will start Tappan and McCall at ends, Capt. Hibbs and Seitz at the tackles, Boren and Gowder as guards, and Barragat as a back. In the backfield he will use Don Williams or Marshall Duffield at quarter, with odds slightly in favor of the latter.

On the line the only newcomers are Seitz, who was the Spartans' star last year, and Gowder, a reserve in years gone by. Each weighs 200 pounds and each is an experiment. If the boys show anything today they may land regular jobs. If they fail to impress, other men will come forward and take their positions.

WILLIAMS OR DUFFIELD
The backfield is an all-veteran outfit, provided Williams opens. Even Seitz, who has been playing with Williams during the game.

Much has been written about Capt. Smart of the visitors. They may have a great broken-field runner and a triple threat artist of high rank. His number is 1, so he won't be hard to spot. Bergeson is said to be a fine guard and Dahlke and Jensen come heralded as strong ends.

Unless the Utah publicity department has been fooling us, the Trojans will outweigh their foe considerably. Jones said when he lapped Jones's boys in action.

As for the Bruins they seem destined to put something pretty tough when they line up against the Wildcats from Arizona. Coach J. F. McKaie has been mentoring the Sagebrushers for many years and knows what it's about. Last season Arizona played host to the Bruins and sent them home on the short end of a 16-to-13 score.

U.C.L.A. ought to look much better this time than last week, when the boys measured Santa Barbara. This goes whether the Bruins win or lose. Six days of practice, after he had passed to Annus for fifteen yards. The line-ups:

LONG BEACH, 19-0
Manual Arts displayed a fair amount of punch and a bit of luck in defeating Long Beach 19 to 0 yesterday. The Trojans earned two touchdowns and got a nice break in the third period. Long Beach kicked off to Manual, and the Trojans fumbled on their own 20-yard line, the Jackrabbits recovering. A bad pass from center soared over Coach's head, and the Trojans recovered on the 40-yard line. The Trojans scored on the short end of a 16-to-13 score.

CHAFFEY UNION WINS OVER CITRUS, 12-6
Chaffey Union High School triumphed in its second game in three years. Citrus Union High was the victim, 12 to 6. Citrus scored early in the game when Henderson picked up a Chaffey fumble and ran eighty yards across the goal. He missed goal. McArthur and Allen scored Chaffey's two touchdowns in the second half.

FAIRFAX GRIDDERS DEFEAT INGLEWOOD

HOLLYWOODERS AMERICAN TEAM RUIN SERAPHS LEADS BRITISH

one with a man on, to account for three of the Seraphs' four wins.

Tex Weatherly, Deacon Pitt and Glenn Gahler, the three Seraphs, took turns at hitting the Hollywood bats and all appeared quite proficient at the job. Weatherly didn't last two innings, and Pitt, who replaced Tex, went out for a pinch hitter after finally getting the Stars out in the second. Gahler dodged base hits successfully enough to stick it out on the mound until the tussle ended.

The Stars started out with a run in the first, when Wally Rehg doubled and rammed home Smith's single, and then proceeded to sew up the contest on a six-run rampage in the second.

Rehg's double began the rally with a single, but Kerr popped out. Agnew bounced a hit over Staley's head and Shellenback was left to fill the bases. A walk to Rehg followed by a run. Lee's sacrifice fly to Jensen scored Agnew, and then Rehg doubled down the right field line, Shellenback scoring. Pitt came on the scene at this juncture and Smith welcomed him with a single that tallied Trombly and Rehg. Osterberg doubled to score Smith, but Health generously slid out to bring the slaughter to a temporary halt.

Gahler was bombarded for five more runs in the fifth, a walk to Smith, Staley's error on Osterberg's hot grounder, Health's double and successive home runs by Kerr and Agnew doing the damage. Singles by Rehg and Health gave the Stars their thirteenth and final marker in the sixth.

Hollander started pitching in the Angel outfit and Tolson Parker, one of his fast ones, into the bleachers for a home run. In the eighth Kerr's error put Jensen on first and Tolson followed with his second home, a close out the left field barrier. Tierney, baiting for Gahler, singled after two were out in the ninth, was allowed to take second, and third without opposition, and scored when Staley hit safely to right.

Another one today, folks, and it looks like McCabe and Osborn on the firing line. Score: HOLLYWOOD 13, LOS ANGELES 4.

Yankees Clinch Loop Pennant

of three. By winning six flags the Yankees move into a tie with the Athletics and the Red Sox, each of whom took six in their palmy days.

The winning campaign of the Yankees falls naturally into three divisions. Through the first two months they were invincible, winning thirty-nine, and losing only eight for a percentage of .800. Experts were likening them to the famous Cubs, who won 116 games in 1906, and wondered how badly the champions would shatter that mark. Some estimates ran as high as 125 games. They were thankful today to win their one hundredth.

Then came the awakening. The Yanks stumbled along at a gallop of about 550 for the next six weeks, but the Athletics did little better. Even while they were sliding the champions retained their strange power to defeat the Athletics when and where they willed. A double victory over the Reds at the Municipal Stadium on July 1 gave Miller Huggins an advantage of thirteen and one-half games.

SLEW AT END
Next came the closing phase of the Yankees battle—the long war of attrition in which the Yankees fought not so much to win as to keep from losing. The Athletics started on their way up and finally dislodged the champions by half a game on September 22.

The Mackmen moved confidently into the Yankee Stadium for four battles in three playing days but the Yankees still possessed their trademark of winning. Philadelphia when no other team would yield. The Huggins regained the lead and broke the back of the Athletics drive by taking three out of four to run their season record.

The British fought stubbornly for every point, but when they were tripped up by their own errors, Bell's sensational mashing, and Van Ryan's cool volleying put them at a disadvantage. In the third set, Van Ryan and Higgins won their own services to start with, and the Americans then won the next five games, and the match.

Bell's first service in the final game was to Gregory, and Higgins lost the first point by returning into the net. Bell's first service to Higgins was a fault, and Higgins lost the net. Higgins gave them other chances to recoup in the West but the "Yanks" were falling. Score:

Capt. Bright, head of the Los Angeles county homicide department, yesterday announced that he expects to place before the grand jury information about the headless body found near Puenta, and ask an indictment charging young Northcott with the crime.

This move of the Los Angeles authorities, however, is understood to be in abeyance until the efforts of the Riverside county authorities to return Northcott here for trial have been approved or rejected by the Canadian authorities.

W. E. Freeman, an Ontario taxi driver, told detectives yesterday of young Northcott's frenzy on the 7th inst., while using his taxi for a peculiar trip to the chicken farm.

Freeman said that he followed Northcott's car to the ranch, and about half a mile from the place he got out and walked to the farm at the request of Northcott to see if there was any around the house.

Later he drove Northcott toward Los Angeles, but his passenger ordered the car stopped at Puenta. Here Northcott paid the fare and told Freeman to return to Ontario. Police believe this was at the time young Clark had been kidnapped from the ranch and Northcott was attempting to locate the youth and Jessie Clark, a sister.

Further proof that young Clark was abducted from the ranch is frequently beaten by Northcott, the isolated farm was visited by detectives yesterday by Dr. J. M. Tison, Ontario physician.

WELL TO BE INTERVIEWED

Deputy Sheriff C. G. Greyson and Martin, in charge of the Puenta side investigation, yesterday prepared to inspect thoroughly an old well a short distance from the ranch house.

The well—which has held the attention of the two officers since it was discovered the top had been broken open within the last few months—was tested yesterday to determine whether a man could escape it safely. A stench was reported by the officers, but otherwise, they believed they be able to work in the shaft today.

In an effort to ascertain the knowledge of the ranch held by young Northcott, the two officers attempted to confound the boy at the ranch yesterday. Despite their efforts, they reported, Clark told them without hesitation to every point requested.

He is a good jumper and a good runner, but he is not only a horse, but a man. The fifty years of his career have been a long and hard one. He has been a champion in the past, but he is not only a horse, but a man. He has been a champion in the past, but he is not only a horse, but a man. He has been a champion in the past, but he is not only a horse, but a man.
